

128th Aviation Brigade

Family Readiness Group

Fort Eustis, Virginia

Welcome!

I would like to welcome you to the 128th Aviation Brigade Family. My name is Shari Smith, and I am the 128th Aviation Brigade Spouse Advisor. I know the success of our Army Soldiers is largely due to the superb support provided by their spouses, parents and family members at home. Thank you for your continued support of our Soldiers.

I recognize the sacrifices required of our families. COL Smith and I have made an effort to support and enhance the family life by making the Brigade Family Readiness Program a priority. The success of our Family Readiness Program is largely due to volunteers who give their personal time and efforts to contribute to the success of this unit. The network of our volunteers is especially important as a means of providing information about resources available in the local area. To learn more about the Family Readiness Program please call (757) 878-6609 ext 3347.

There are many programs available for spouses and children here on Fort Eustis. Please take advantage of all the services that the Soldier and Family Assistance Center (ACS), and the surrounding community have to offer. I also encourage you to take an AFTB class. AFTB stands for Army Family Team Building, which is a class on all you need to know about the Army and its customs.

Again, welcome to the 128th. I hope to meet you personally at one of our unit activities. Please check the newsletter and Facebook page for information about upcoming events. We are very excited to have you and your family as part of this Brigade.

Sincerely,

Shari Smith
